Excess Figures/Tables, Color, and Auxiliary Material:

We encourage the submission of color figures as they greatly enhance the readability and quality of the journal.

Although there is no routine page charge for articles in the printed journal, charges will be levied for excess figures or tables and preparation of auxiliary material, as well as for printing figures in color. Auxiliary material may include large tables (1 page or longer), figures, questionnaires, or other items that contribute to the paper but are not well suited to the print edition or are of interest to only a small subset of readers. The Editor will evaluate each manuscript in these respects.

PDF files and copies of Print Issue:

Purchasing either a PDF or print journal does not transfer copyright ownership or extend the right to post on the Internet.

You may purchase a high-resolution PDF file of your article from which you may print unlimited copies. This may be used as the version of record for depositing in institutional repositories. Please keep in mind that in over 90 years of existence, we have never had page charges. Basic publishing in our journal is free to authors. We incur great expense to ensure the highest quality journal production, but we make every effort not to pass these expenses on to authors.

Copies of the print issue may be purchased for $30, plus shipping and handling charges. Visit asma.directfrompublisher.com to place an order once your article has been published.
